Spiritual Positioning System

CEO's embezzling, clergypersons molesting, politicians being bought and sold, invasion of private space and private times, perjury and deceit without conscience have become commonplace. Self-interest has eclipsed self-respect, the need to control overcomes concern for others, power trumps compassion and the worship of money is the religion of choice.

We struggle with right, wrong, right to life, right to choose, freedom of expression, parental controls, predators on line, pornography on demand and addictions to things that weren't even available fifty years ago.

There are no simple answers but there is an approach based on this new technocracy that can provide a framework and foundation for the survival of our spirits and our very souls. We must develop a Spiritual Positioning System that guides us in our lives like a Global Positioning System guides us in our cars.
